Skeltons Road and Drumneath Road form a staggered crossroads with the A1 and three flyover options are being considered at this location.

The Purple and Green Options are located at the existing junction with a third Cyan Option located away from the junction, further northbound on the A1.

In the Green Option the flyover is located to the northbound side of Drumneath Road on the A1. In the Purple Option the flyover is located opposite Drumneath Road.

The Cyan Option provides a flyover around 200m further northbound on the A1, but retains connections to Drumneath Road and Skeltons Road.

The earthworks footprints shown in these drawings, while indicative, are intended to illustrate what is currently expected to be the maximum extent of the works. However, it is important to note that all options are preliminary at this stage and will be subject to change as the proposal develops.
